Project Title:	E-Market Web application for Tribals

Abstract:

Technology has changed our daily life routine as well as living style. Growing technology making conventional markets go down. E-commerce is nowadays got a limelight and tribal people are lacking of this modern technology. To give comprehensive support for people belonging to various tribes in the entire range of production, product development, reservation of traditional heritage, support to both forest and agricultural produce of tribal people, E-Marketplace plays a vital role.

To connect tribal artisans to a larger market, we are providing E-Marketplace to sell their products and so benefit their families and communities. This is solely for tribal sellers. This e-marketplace aims to bring tribal artisans online and to provide easy access for tribals and give them opportunity to host their product and earn more profit. This includes paintings, handicrafts, home decor items, metal crafts, arts, minor forest products etc. We are creating a website where the tribal artisans will register themselves as sellers on the website. We will make it easy for tribal people who may or may not be knowing technology to host.

Our motto is 'go vocal for local, go tribal'.
